

Langley School District Middle Schools

Langley School District Middle Schools are designed to meet the unique needs of early adolescent learners, a period in a child's life that is characterized by rapid change and intellectual, social, emotional and physical growth. Friendships, supportive relationships with peers and adults and a sense of belonging are of critical importance.

Langley School District Middle Schools exemplify the School District's Mission statement of:

“Working together for student success through excellence in education, empowering all to make quality choices today for opportunities tomorrow.”

- What does “working together for student success through excellence in education” look like in a Middle School?
 - Teaming:
 - Students work in inter-disciplinary teams, facilitating a sense of belonging and connectedness
 - Teams of teachers enhance curriculum delivery with their course content strengths
 - Teams of teachers have common planning time to share their curricular expertise, teaching and assessment strategies to enhance the learning environment and to work together for the success of each student
 - Flexible scheduling:
 - Scheduling at Middle Schools provides optimum flexibility for learning and teaching
 - High expectations:
 - Middle School communities nurture overall student development through high academic and social expectations

 - What does “empowering all to make quality choices today for opportunities tomorrow” look like in a Langley School District Middle School?
 - Advisory:
 - Advisory group activities are designed to develop relationship skills and to support the social, emotional, intellectual, cultural and physical development of the middle school learners
 - Groups of students meet with their advisor to discuss school, community and global topics
 - Explorations:
 - During scheduled Exploration blocks, every student will have the opportunity to explore curricular options, such as Fine Arts, Information Technology, Applied Skills
 - Explorations provide an excellent opportunity for Middle School students to learn more about future secondary and post secondary options and to achieve a feeling of success in an area of personal interest
