POLICY MANUAL

Policy No. 4024

SUBJECT: PARENT INVOLVEMENT IN EDUCATION (1)

Date
Revised May 15, 2001

“Parents have the right and responsibility to participate in the process of determining the educational goals, policies and services provided for their children. They have the primary responsibility to ensure that children are provided with the healthy and supportive environment necessary for learning. They have a responsibility to help shape and support the goals of the school system and to share in the tasks of educating their young.”

Reference: School Act, R.S.B.C., September 5, 2000, Statement of Education Policy Order, page D-85.

The Board of Education recognizes that the most effective education for students occurs when parents are active partners in the learning process.

School staff and parents must work together as knowledgeable partners. Such collaborative partnerships, provide an atmosphere of teamwork which, motivates, supports and encourages children to become lifelong learners and valuable contributors to society.

Continued parental involvement in the education of children/youth, throughout all grade levels, contributes greatly to student achievement and a positive school environment.

The term “parent” refers to any caregiver who assumes the responsibility for nurturing and caring for the child.*

The District believes that active parent involvement is not limited to, but includes:

5. serving as responsible advocates for their child’s educational needs;
6. participating in classroom activities and school-related activities, functions and events;
7. participating in the activities of Parent Advisory Councils and other school-related advisory and governance activities;
8. working cooperatively with the school to solve problems and to create positive, productive learning environments both at home and at school;
9. supporting the school in instilling an appreciation for the value of education and a sense of individual responsibility for learning and achievement;
10. preparing a child for school and monitoring and responding to school-related responsibilities.

The Langley School District will encourage, support and promote parent involvement through:

- providing a welcoming and open atmosphere at all Langley schools;
- promoting effective communication between school and home;
- providing opportunities for parent involvement in their child's education, and in the life of the school community, in a variety of ways – before, during and after school;
- promoting cooperative planning and decision making;
- developing, implementing and assessing parent involvement programs at all grade levels;
- supporting parent in-service opportunities to enhance the effectiveness of the parent/teacher team;
- supporting professional development opportunities for staff members to enhance the understanding of effective parent involvement strategies and procedures;
- supporting parent education opportunities to promote effective parenting.

The District values the needs, interests and perspectives expressed by parents. The Langley School District supports parental involvement and encourages parents to participate in opportunities that will foster a positive school climate and enrich students' learning experiences.

Effective parent involvement is based on good practice. Long lasting gains for students occur when parent involvement activities are well-planned, inclusive and comprehensive, at all grade levels. The Langley Parent Involvement Handbook sets out a variety of good practice and activities which can be utilized by school staff at all grade levels.
