

Dawne Tomlinson Excellence in Film and Television Scholarship - $1000

Candidates will have demonstrated excellence in one or more crafts in film and television production and plan to pursue post-secondary in a related area. In addition, candidates will have a demonstrated ability to collaborate with others and a passion for the craft. The core competencies listed below are all relevant to the art of film and television production. Both candidates and teacher/administrator nominators are encouraged to speak about how some or all of these have been demonstrated by the candidate.

Students will complete an application form online and within the form, submit a link to one piece of work demonstrating their excellence in film and television production. This can be a portfolio reel, a complete short film, or a portion of a piece of work (3 minutes max in length).

*A teacher or administrator may nominate one candidate per school.
